DECEMBER 2021 - Malta

The founders behind Med Tech World have many years of highly successful events in emerging tech and AI, world leading in content, exhibitions and networking. This event aims to bring all shareholders of the medical tech industry under one roof to facilitate learning between peers, networking, and business opportunities in the sector.

WHY US?

A one stop destination organised and curated by a team of medical experts for healthcare practitioners, innovators, regulators and investors to gather and do business.

Supported by the local government, the event is located in the Mediterranean's digital hub - Malta, making it a leading destination for tech innovation.

SIGMA Group's years of holding successful events in emerging tech has allowed the company to bring networking and business opportunities to the forefront of the med-tech industry.

WHAT TO EXPECT?

A meeting of minds: Through a series of conferences, leading experts will address the opportunities and challenges revolutionising the face of medicine and patient care. From surgical robotics, to bio-printing, Med Tech World brings medicine into the future through an offering of insightful, data-driven content created exclusively with the medical community in mind.

iA Buzzing Expo: The Med Tech expo floor brings a carefully curated display of the products and solutions leading the market. This high energy exposition offers a direct line to some of the top brands in the business - making it an ideal place for networking and deal-making opportunities.

Startups & Investors Hub: With investments reaching astronomical figures, it is now estimated that the global digital health market will increase to around $640 billion by 2026. Through our expertise coupled with optimised networking we will ensure that both investors and startups are on the ground floor of this health revolution.

Supported by the local government, the event is located in Malta in the middle of the Mediterranean. A government that has ambitions to become a digital hub and a leading destination for tech innovation.
